The Old Guard is Delta Lambda's Alumni Annual Fund. Your gift goes toward strengthening the Bonds among alumni, enriching both the alumni and undergraduate Delta Lambda experience. Volunteer dues are $100 or more annually. Some Alumni choose to give more. These funds underwrite special projects like the Military Plaque, the monthly e-newsletter, the Delta Lambda website, monthly meetings with Alumni Advisors and Chapter officers, alumni reunions and more.

The new website is the brainchild of David Rancourt '84.

"My vision was to take the best ideas from my boarding school and implemented them into a fraternity website. My old school connects generations more efficiently than any other organization I have ever seen.

"The goal was to create a website that connects our generations of Delta Lambda Brothers, allowing all to share via the "Class notes" section, special events, promotions, marriages, child births and other personal and career mile-markers.

"Of course, the design also honors the success of our men while in college: Achievements like those of our varsity and club athletes, campus and fraternity leaders, IM Champions, and other accolades awarded within our unique brotherhood."

[Above] Acknowledging the champagne toast offered by then University President John Thrasher and members of the Seminole Boosters Board of Directors recognizing David's multiple million-dollar gifts to the Seminole Athletic Program. The Rancourt Gate is now the named entrance to the stadium through which the FSU students pass on game days.

David earned his BS in Economics from FSU, his MA from Florida, and is scheduled to complete his PhD by Christmas.

"My PhD studies were based in Berlin and Bucharest at the Institute for Cultural Diplomacy, and the University of Bucharest. I am a student in the faculty of Philosophy and Applied Ethics, studying moral theory. My dissertation considers the morality of lobbying under deontological, utilitarian and virtue ethical theories; how lobbying works in the executive and legislative branches of U.S. governments and western democracies."

Center: Three SMCs: Past SMC Doug Russell '79 pledged and initiated Rancourt in 1984. Doug also initiated Wyatt Rancourt in 2016. Wyatt was elected SMC in 2019. Doug's son Tyler Russell '10 also served as Vice President.

Right: Delta Lambda SMC David Rancourt '84 accepting the Robert Adger Smythe Award at the Pi Kappa Alpha Boston Convention in 1986.

Doug Russell '79 tells, "When I was SMC, Charlie Barnes and I met downstairs in the dining room. David Rancourt was doing his work area, mopping the floor. I pointed him out to Charlie saying 'There's a freshman football player pledge doing his work area. I am certain that someday, David will be elected SMC."

About his Seminole football stint, David remembers, "My position coach was very diplomatic when he suggested perhaps my dreams of NCAA glory at defensive tackle might be beyond my reach...since I was slow... and since I would be competing for playing time against Gerald Nichols, Todd Stroud, Isaac Williams, Lenny Chavers and Jim Hendley."

So, instead of football, David turned his considerable energy toward campus leadership. He became Chairman of his political party, and served as President of the Student Senate, as well as SMC of Delta Lambda.

David served Governor Jeb Bush as Chief of Staff. Afterward, he became a Founding Partner of Southern Strategy Group, where he and John Thrasher were colleagues.

In 2015, David was elected National Chairman of the Seminole Boosters Board of Directors. His steady hand and clear vision played a large part in successfully completing the quarter-billion-dollar Champions Campaign that included the Dunlap Champions Club, the new Champions Hall, and upgrades to all athletic facilities.

DELTA LAMBDA'S COMMUNICATION TEAM

Left: Chris Dietz '87 and his son Caleb Dietz '11. The monthly newsletter is published, and the website maintained through Chris' personal generosity plus a stipend from The Old Guard.

Center: David Rancourt '84, back in Tallahassee after spending the summer in Thailand undergoing a rigorous course of Mixed Martial Arts training. His interest in the sport increased during basic training as a U.S. Army infantryman. David joined the National Guard after graduate school. David is shown here with Charlie Barnes '65 the Editor in Chief. (They are pictured at the Village Inn, and were definitely not practicing martial arts...)

Right: Tim Sheridan '79, an IT professional in Chicago, is executive editor of the monthly newsletter. Tim's brother is Ted Sheridan '82, and his grandfather is Ed Cubbon '29.

Delta Lambda's first official alumni newsletter was published in 1966. In later years, the print newsletter was published as The Columns. When he was Chapter Advisor, Jimmy Keen '73 first suggested creation of a monthly e-newsletter in 2014. Since then, the newsletter has been prepared and distributed almost every month.

Charlie Barnes collects content and creates a rough draft. Tim Sheridan collects additional content as needed, edits, and assembles the draft for publication using an online tool. Tim hands it back to Chris Dietz for final review and distribution. Chris also oversees the STRIPE software that allows alumni to make gifts to The Old Guard.

David writes, "Chris Dietz '87 and I were in consultation regularly as the website came to completion. He was always the intended master of its future. My goal was to get a product that Chris and the next generation of Alumni could embrace and enhance, make it better and encourage undergrads and alumni to use it as a connectivity tool.

Several years ago, David Rancourt personally funded digitalizing all the old issues of PikeBoy and Pikes Illustrated as permanent links within the newsletter.

Our new Deltalambdapikes.com website was developed in Kharkiv, Ukraine.

David writes, "For years I helped design and oversee the development of websites for my own companies, and for those political candidates whose campaigns I ran. I travelled to Ukraine in 2014 after the Euromaidan to study and learn about the political situation. I learned that most of the political and public relations fights were directed by local, savvy, Ukrainian web and app developers. Because they can earn higher fees from international markets, many of Ukraine's best and brightest go into this field. Since the Russian invasion, I have tried to find more work for my partners there. Of all my projects, the Pike website was, of course, my favorite."

David personally funded the website entire project, at a cost of "something north of $50,000."

David concludes, "Staying connected with our Brothers helps us find the resources we need, individually and as a Chapter. I believe one day, Delta Lambda may need another big push to raise funds to expand the house, pay off the mortgage, or maybe God-forbid, fight for our survival against those who view our Order as a relic of the past. If we remain connected and strong, raising money for a cause in which we all believe and all love, this is a thing of joy."

A SPECIAL LETTER TO DELTA LAMBDA ALUMNI

Editor's Note: Tyler Gilroy '18 played linebacker two years for the Seminoles (2019, 2020) while also serving the Chapter for two years on the Executive Board. He graduated in 2021.

"My name is Tyler Gilroy '18. I had the honor of serving on the Executive Board as both Title IX Chair and Pledge Educator. I was a student-athlete at Florida State University, while holding my leadership positions in Pike. Each role carries its own significance, challenges, and rewards, contributing to personal growth, camaraderie, and a sense of purpose. As an athlete, the commitment to playing football at Florida State went beyond the field. It embodied discipline, resilience, and a relentless pursuit of excellence. The hours of training, practice, and competition demand unwavering dedication, teaching invaluable life lessons about teamwork, time management, and pushing one's limits. Representing the Seminoles on the field instills a sense of pride, creating a connection with other Pike Brothers on the field, as well as my Pike Brothers 1952 Heritage Grove Circle.

"Being a Pike at FSU adds a unique dimension to the college journey. Pi Kappa Alpha fosters brotherhood, leadership, and community involvement. Being part of this fraternity means forging deep bonds with fellow members, learning to lead with integrity, and actively contributing to philanthropic and social initiatives. The values of PIKE align with the traits of a successful athlete – determination, collaboration, and a commitment to making a positive impact.

"You learn soon enough that life is about embracing opportunities that extend far beyond graduation. The camaraderie and shared experiences among teammates and Brothers create a sense of belonging that shapes character, leadership skills, and a lifelong commitment to growth and service.

"My goal has been to embody the spirit of what a Pike is – someone who not only excels on the field and in the classroom, but also contributes positively to the campus, fraternity, and everyone you meet. I challenge you to win some IM Championships, Conference Championships, and hopefully National Championships for us old guys."

Once a Pike, always a Pike.

Paul Gerding, Jr. '65

This is the way many of us remember the artist and photographer Paul Gerding '65.

Paul was always fun-loving and whimsical. The photo was taken at Disney World in 1970 or 1971 when the resort was still under construction.

Hunter Thomas '65 writes, "Paul Gerding's wife Kaye informed me that Paul passed away in June. He had suffered a stroke. Those who knew Paul were gifted with his brotherhood and loyal

I want to relate to our Brothers that Pike Brotherhood can last until the end. Paul liked to end his correspondence with Phi Phi K A."

Paul served as a founding member and Board Chairman of the Winter Garden Art Association, continuing to promote the arts and talented local artists. His own artwork appeared in several exhibitions.

He was a professional photographer, starting at Walt Disney World when it opened. He later purchased The Photographic Group in Orlando. He worked for Correct Craft for many years, capturing iconic photos of professional water-skiers and wakeboarders.

His widow Kaye wrote, ""He loved our grandchildren, and they adored him. His grandpa name was Gagra. He just was a good man. He was a good husband, father, grandfather. Everybody absolutely loved him."
